

EIMYS ORTIZ HERNÁNDEZ

CURRICULUM

Eimys Ortiz Hernández is a Serra Húnter Ternure-eligible Lecturer in the field of Public International Law and International Relations at the University of Lleida, where she successfully defended her doctoral thesis under the supervision of Dr Antonio Blanc Altemir. The thesis was unanimously awarded the cum laude distinction by the examination committee. During her predoctoral training, she participated in prestigious summer courses at the Hague Academy, the University of the Basque Country, the European University Institute, and the University of Helsinki. Her research focuses on the foreign relations of the European Union, particularly in the Mediterranean region. She has been involved in three European projects, four national projects, and three regional projects. Additionally, she has carried out three research stays: one at Mohammed V University in Rabat (2014), another at the Central Library of the European Commission in Brussels (2015), and a third at the University of Zaragoza (2022). She has also participated in numerous national and international conferences, seminars, and congresses. She is the author of the monograph Processes of "Europeanization" of the Legal Systems of Mediterranean Third Countries: Special Reference to Morocco (Thomson Reuters – Aranzadi, 2016), as well as several articles and book chapters related to her research. Finally, she coordinates the Minor in European Law at the Faculty of Law, Economics, and Tourism.